The great brand of Medtronicnsno Deadline for any management of the project is less worried to improve the culture of non -competitive work culture. The new products in which they work in medical domain deal with employees like the labored labors, they say they follow agile practices and I have never even had a planning more since I started working. Development managers are extremely rude to developers and have even used dirty languages as if people are healthy and garbage. I would never recommend it to anyone even if they pay 100 times more than others. They work in use time on duty and expect people from Asia to work on their day and the day of the Asians is obviously their moment of work. Happy to get out of this coal mine.
